

LE MONDE

15 JUILLET 1789

Unbelievably disgusting scenes occurred at the Bastille today. Large hordes of dirty peasants charged through the Bastilles gates, overpowered the few noble guards with what second hand weapons they could find and liberated the scummy prisoners inside. Think of all the noble, pure blood that was spilled because of this heinous crime, the filthy hands of those wretched peasants wrapping themselves around our weapons, our uniforms, and our Bastille.

The terrible ambush started with selfish demonstrators speaking out against the government and our beloved King, Louis XVI, our saviour, our leader, and our hero. Those demonstrators, who should rot in hell with their shame, began to loot the Invalides prison for arms. They managed to retrieve 32 thousand rifles however, thank God, no ammunition to go with them. The rebels marched right up to our great Bastille, guarded by cannons and soldiers. The Bastille walls were 10 feet thick and 90 feet high.
